LanguageCert LTE (LanguageCert Test of English) Curriculum Overview

LanguageCert LTE is a general English language qualification designed to assess language proficiency across six levels (A1-C2) aligned with the Common European Framework of Reference (CEFR). It offers both general and specific purpose exams, catering to various learner needs.

Course Aims

- To develop learners' English language skills in listening, reading, writing, and speaking across all four skills.
- To prepare learners for the LanguageCert LTE exam at their appropriate level.
- To equip learners with practical English language skills for general or specific purposes (e.g., work, study, travel).

Course Structure

The structure of a LanguageCert LTE preparation course will vary depending on the target level (A1-C2), the specific purpose of the exam (general or for work), and the learners' current English proficiency. However, it typically includes:

- Focus on the four language skills: Listening: developing comprehension skills for various accents, speeds, and genres.
- Reading: enhancing reading comprehension strategies for different text types.
- Writing: improving writing accuracy, coherence, and cohesion for different purposes.
- Speaking: developing fluency, accuracy, and interaction skills.
- Vocabulary and grammar development: Expanding vocabulary related to general or specific topics.
- Practicing grammatical structures relevant to the target level.

- Exam skills practice: Familiarising learners with the LTE exam format and question types.
- Developing strategies for tackling different exam tasks.
- Providing practice with authentic exam materials.
- Functional language: Teaching language for specific purposes (e.g., making appointments, giving presentations, writing emails) if relevant to the course.

Teaching Methodology

- Communicative language teaching: Creating opportunities for learners to use English in meaningful interactions.
- Task-based learning: Using authentic tasks to develop language skills in context.
- Integrated skills approach: Combining different language skills in activities.
- Learner-centered approach: Focusing on learners' needs and interests.

Assessment

While LanguageCert LTE is an external exam, preparation courses typically include formative assessment to monitor learners' progress. This may involve:

- Regular class tests and quizzes
- Written assignments
- Oral presentations
- Portfolio assessment
- Projects
